

Eileen has always loved horses and training but did not have the opportunity to ride until later in life. She has been serving others since becoming a teenage tennis champion from Long Island, NY and started her D1 college career at Rice University in Houston, Texas at 16. After obtaining her degree from Rice, she turned pro and coached many juniors to great success in Texas while attending law school and practicing law.

Eileen has had a thriving law practice since 1989 and in 2012 started a real estate team with Keller Williams and a construction financing company in Central Texas to help clients buy, build, sell and invest. She is a mother of 4, and “meemaw” to one grandchild. She loves riding, training, and showing her horses and has been a member of TRHA since 2012.
